TWO BROTHERS GO SATURDAY IN DRAFT UNIT

Volunteer from Third Registration Also Ready
AMERICAN LEGION TO HAVE SENDOFF

Band Will Play; Merchants Asked to Display American Flag

Two brothers and a volunteer from the recent third draft registration are among the group of Salem district selectees who will depart for army service Saturday morning.

The contingent will depart for induction at Camp Perry following a program planned by Charles H. Carey post American Legion to give the city's recruits a rousing sendoff. A similar organized farewell was held three weeks ago.

Many persons are expected out to cheer the boys who are leaving to serve their country at war. Martial music will be furnished by the Salem High school band and R. L. Hutcheson commander of the Legion post announced that if the weather is favorable a small parade will be staged.

Merchants and other downtown businessmen are asked to display the Stars and Stripes in front of their places of business.

The draftees who have been ordered to report at the Salem draft board headquarters in the Memorial building at 9:45 a. m. will leave by bus at 10:22 a. m.

Among the group will be Harold Eugene Walker of 614 N. Ellsworth ave. who volunteered in order that he could go to the army along with his brother Clarence Austin Walker of Wilson st. who had been drafted.

Twenty-two of the draftees are from Salem others from neighboring communities.

Another volunteer is John Francis O'Connor of 189 S. Ellsworth ave. who is married and 39 years of age. He has worked on tanks for the Cleveland ordnance district and expressed a desire to see service.

Other volunteers are Henry Reimer Harold Vernon Kuhns, George Frederick Barnes and Frank Mills Helman, Jr. all of Salem.

Nelson Will Seek Labor's Agreement To Cut Double Pay

Opposes Suspension of Maximum Hour Legislation: Tells Congress He'll Ask Legislation Himself If He Can't Get Agreement

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—War Production Chief Donald Nelson asked congress today to give him a 30-day time-limit to obtain voluntary suspension of double pay for overtime through agreement with leaders of organized labor before enacting legislation on the matter.

He promised the house naval committee that he would ask for legislation himself then if he was unable to obtain that agreement, but simultaneously entered opposition to suspension of federal maximum hour legislation and a ban against closed shops in industries handling army and navy contracts.

"The men at the bench are just as patriotic as you or I," he told Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.) of the committee, who with Representative Smith (D., Va.) drafted the far-reaching measure.

"The present law," he said, "does not prevent men from working more than 40 hours a week. It has not set the pattern for the length of our work week in our war industries. It governs wages rather than the hours in which a man may work."

He told the committee that men in the "highly strategic" machine tool industry now were working an average of 55 hours, that those in the shipbuilding industry averaged 48 hours, and those in aircraft plants 49.

"If we abolish the 40-hour week by law," he said, "we do not gain one hour of additional work in our war industries; but naturally we create a widespread demand for increases in wage rates, throw the entire wage structure out of adjustment, and remove an important incentive for labor to shift from non-essential industries into war production jobs."

Senator George (D., Ga.) earlier had predicted that public demand would force drastic and perhaps "unwise" legislative curbs on labor unless the administration acted promptly to seek a modification of the 40-hour week law.

Discussing proposals to abolish the 40-hour week by law, Nelson expressed the opinion such action would "make labor relations in general worse, rather than better."

But he bluntly asserted that the question of paying double time for Saturday, Sunday and holiday work "is a different matter, which has no relation to the 40-hour week as such," and declared:

"I believe that this practice of demanding premium pay for weekend and holiday work has in many instances slowed up war production."

"Yet," he added, "I do not believe that we should try to correct this situation by act of congress. I believe that we can gain a general suspension of this provision through voluntary action on the part of our responsible labor leaders."

Favors Overtime Pay
He made it clear, however, that he was not in favor of eliminating overtime pay, set now by law at the equivalent of time and a half, for the seventh day of consecutive labor.

Discussing the clause which would ban the closed shop, Nelson contended that it would "very likely have a bad effect on labor morale and on labor relations—ultimately, on war production itself."

He entered opposition, also, to the provision to limit war profits to a maximum of 6 per cent, although expressing his conviction that excessive profits should be curbed and his belief that 6 per cent "is plenty on the average case."

But the war production chief argued that the mandatory barriers against profits higher than 6 per cent would impede the conversion of small business to war work.

He said also that the clause failed to take into consideration return on capital investment, turnover, the time required to fill the contract, and the financial structure of the contracting firm, and probably would, if written into the law, force many contractors to insist upon cost-plus-fixed fee contracts.

"What we need to do," said Nelson at one point, "is to get everyone in the country conscious of his responsibility."

"The job of production," he said, "depends upon the will of the people, upon the man with the shovel, upon the man with the tools, upon management, upon the public, upon government."

Named In Damage Suit
LISBON, March 24.—Milan Mileusnic of R. D. 2, Salem, was named defendant in a $3,150 damage action filed in the common pleas court here Monday by Cesta Marie Sheets of R. D. 3, Salem.

The defendant is charged with carelessness and negligence in the petition, resulting, it is alleged, in an automobile accident on Route 14 just east of the Salem city limits last Jan. 24.

At the recent Youngstown exhibition, "Merry Shane," a Staffordshire terrier owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Clay, E. Fourth st., won the "best of breed" award.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. McIntyre's Chihuahua "Sneezy," placed sixth in the obedience trials, Nov. 16, Class A, while "McLane Nicodemus," a cocker spaniel belonging to Miss Mary Linton of Alliance won third place in the obedience trial, novice Class B.

"Lindy Lou," a Boston terrier owned by Mrs. Arthur Glass of Salem, was named the best Boston terrier female and best puppy also.

Edward Maxson, 14, of Salem, took second prize in the children's handling class.

County Kennel Club Names New Officers
The Columbiana County Kennel club, one year old yesterday, elected officers at a meeting last night to launch an extensive program of activities for the ensuing season.

Officers are: President, J. C. Harshman; vice president, Mrs. Dan McDonald of East Liverpool; secretary, Fred A. Shaffer; treasurer, Melvin York.

Twenty-seven members were present to review events of the past year and plan new activities.

WAR PROFITS IN OHIO PLANT STUNS SOLONS

Hear That Lady Secretary Gets $18,295 For Ten Weeks of Work

HEAD OF BEDFORD PLANT TESTIFIES

Cites Quality and Production; Compares Prices With Others

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Congress was amazed today at the disclosure of war orders so lucrative the lady secretary of a manufacturer has been drawing salary and extras at the rate of $18,295 for the first 10 weeks of 1942.

The manufacturer, W. S. Jack, president of the Jack and Heintz, Inc., of Bedford, O., contended in a statement that the bonus system under which the secretary was paid actually decreased costs. He told the house naval committee yesterday that the firm, which makes airplane parts, had given out $600,000 in bonuses last year.

"And the money all came from the government," said Rep. Vinson (D., Ga.), chairman of the committee.

"Most Wonderful Man"
The secretary, plump Miss Adelaide Bowman, said of her employer, "He's generous and is the most wonderful man in the world."

She acknowledged yesterday that she had received $39,356 last year and $18,295 for the first 10 weeks this year—an annual rate of $95,108 for 1942.

Edmund Toland, counsel for the committee, charged that the company paid the huge bonuses to employees and officials to decrease profits and thereby avoid excess profits levies.

Vinson brought out that Miss Bowman received a $31,000 bonus in March and asked her what she did to justify it.

"I guess I took some worries off Mr. Jack's mind," she said. Her 1940 income was $4,448.

Company officials testified that Jack's salary had risen from $25,000 in 1940 to salary and bonus of $149,845 in 1941, that "a million was cut for all earnings over $10,000 a year" to help them pay income taxes, and that all workers got a $600 Christmas bonus.

"We believe that with our bonus system we have a morale in our organization that any manufacturer can be proud of as our associates in business (employees) have 100 per cent confidence in the management and are giving their all from the standpoint of skill and production, and we believe that with our bonus systems in force instead of increased costs of our product our bonus system decreases the cost," Jack said in his prepared statement.

Reduces Price
"As evidence, we have voluntarily reduced the price to the army air corps, to whom we have sold 90 per cent of our product, by approximately 28 per cent on our last contract dated January 19, 1942."

STAMP SALES SKID. NEWSBOYS REPORT
Defense bonds and stamps sold by Salem News carriers to their customers dropped off last week to a total of $319.69. This was the next to smallest amount sold in any of the five weeks the campaign has been conducted.

The boys sold 716 10c stamps, 593 25c stamps, 12 50c stamps, one $25 and two $50 bonds. The previous week total sales were $466.70.

Teachers Facing Big Task In Registering Sugar Users
(By Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, March 24.—Don't be surprised if your visit to your nearest elementary public school to register for sugar rationing books May 4, 5, 6 or 7 is short and to the point.

Altogether, however, it will be a big job to fill out information cards for some 7,000,000 Ohioans, calling for all the efficiency that can be mustered by the state defense council and the army of teachers who have volunteered to handle the registration.

Harry T. Beckmann, state rationing administrator, said today the teachers would be trained in group classes throughout the state, ready to work fast and surely from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. each of the four days.

Large sugar users such as wholesale and retail stores, bakeries and confectioneries will be registered at public high schools April 28-29.

Beckmann wants only one adult to register for a whole family. That will cut down the number of persons in line.

Then he hopes that individuals will fill out as much of the card to the point as the registrars will have only a little work to do on each.

Beckmann may ask registrants to report to the schools in groups, according to the alphabetical listing of their last names, to spread registrations over the four days and avoid crushes.

Sugar sales will cease at midnight April 27 for about a week while the rationing system is set up.

A rationing book will be issued to each person in the nation and will contain 28 stamps, each authorizing purchase of a yet unannounced amount of sugar in a specific two-week period. Unused stamps will not be good for later periods.

"Squandered Government Money", Says House Navy Committee

Charging that the Jack and Heintz Co., Cleveland manufacturers of airplane starters, realized "astounding" profits on government war orders, counsel for the house naval affairs committee investigating war contract profits questioned William Jack (above), president of the firm, about the exorbitant bonuses and salaries paid to his employees. Jack's secretary, Miss Adeline Bowman, is pictured as she told how her pay was raised to $39,356 during 1941. The government charged that although the company's books showed only a profit of 10 per cent, the rate actually was 100 per cent if account was taken of the money "squandered" on excessive compensation and free entertainment to workers.

Beardmore Renominated As Salem's Postmaster
Postmaster A. E. Beardmore of Salem, whose second four-year term expires tomorrow, was renominated for the job today by President Roosevelt. The nomination was sent to the Senate in Washington.

Beardmore was named acting postmaster June 1, 1933, being appointed for his first full term in February of '33. He began his second term March 25, 1938.

Cleveland Story Brings Demand for War Profits Slash
(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Disclosure of huge bonuses paid out under government contracts by Jack & Heintz Inc., Cleveland airplane parts company prompted a demand on the house floor today that those responsible for such contracts be prosecuted.

Rep. Andersen (R-Minn.) leading off a series of one-minute speeches for legislation to speed war production made the demand after calling attention to the story as related to the house naval subcommittee yesterday.

"The responsible parties should be promptly dealt with as criminals," Andersen declared adding: "If this is a sample of government efficiency the war will cost twice as much as it should. If these stories are true I don't blame labor for demanding higher wages."

Rep. Young (D-Ohio) also referring to the Jack & Heintz case, told the house that unless congress acts to limit war profits "this war will produce more millionaires than World War I."

All profits over 3 per cent should be taken by the government in taxation," he urged, adding: "We hear member after member denouncing labor, but unconscionable war profiteering is met with smug complacency. We should take the profit out of war. Before yielding to anti-labor propaganda instigated by the hate-Roosevelt boys, let us immediately put an end to war profiteering such as perpetrated by Jack & Heintz, Inc."

WATERFORD LAYS NEW WATER LINES
NEW WATERFORD, March 24.—Another step toward the establishment of a municipal water system here will be taken Monday when WPA workers start laying the first of 16,000 feet of new water line to service 140 subscribers.

The waterworks project was made possible by approval of a levy at the last general election. Supply wells already have been drilled. Thirty-two fire hydrants are to be installed along the lines in the village.

Soil Meeting Planned
LISBON, March 24.—All land owners of Ekrun township have been invited to attend a soil conservation meeting in the south side school building in Ekrun this evening, at which sound movies, "The Heritage We Guard," will be shown.

John Cole, township conservation committee chairman, will preside over the meeting which will include a discussion by County Agent Floyd Lower on the soil conservation situation with relation to Ekrun township.

Honor Service Men
LISBON, March 24.—A service board, with the names of Lisbon soldiers and sailors inscribed, will be erected here in the near future by John Welsh post, American Legion.

Lisbon High school art classes are conducting a contest to determine the design of the board as well as an appropriate slogan.

BUDGET, DATES ANNOUNCED BY WELFARE UNIT

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, April 27, 28, 29 Campaign Period

Catholic Charities Added As New Participating Agency

Citizens of Salem will be asked to contribute $22,600 to the annual Community Chest campaign, to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 27, 28 and 29, it was announced today by officials of the welfare organization.

The 1942 budget represents an increase of $2,103 over that of 1941, which was $20,497.

The dates, approximately a week earlier than usual, were ratified and the budget for the campaign set up at meetings of the Community Chest council and, later, the directors of the organization, last night in the Memorial building.

The budget of $22,600 will be distributed among 10 agencies this year, one additional agency being voted in at last night's meeting of the council. This group is the Catholic organization.

Here are the budget figures:
Home for Aged, $1,000
Memorial Building, $750
City Hospital, $450
Central Clinic, $1,800
Red Cross, $4,500
Boy Scouts, $1,200
Girl's Friendly council, $250
Salvation Army, $1,800
Girl Scouts, $300
Catholic Charities, $1,000

FORTY ARE DRAWN FOR JURY SERVICE
LISBON, March 24.—The names of 40 persons were drawn from the jury wheel here Monday afternoon, as prospective grand and petit jurors for the April term of court, which will open on Monday, April 6. The first 15 seated, when the grand jury is convened, will serve on the indicting body while the remainder may be called to serve as petit jurors throughout the term of court.

These drawn to report for jury duty include: William E. Kaiser, John G. Davis, Mrs. Anna Shope, Andrew Wasson, Mrs. Harriet Weaver, Paul Cooper, Perry Moore, Mrs. Anna Reddick, J. A. Bryan, Thomas Ferguson, Harold Parr, Robert W. Sample, Sr., Mrs. Emma Kell, John W. Vedrey, Mrs. Ruth McNutt, Ralph C. Gentry, Mrs. Estelle Myler, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilhelm, East Liverpool.

Mrs. Margaret Ernst, Mrs. R. E. Smucker and George Dietz, Salem; Grant Dellenbaugh, Walter Scott and Clark Thomas, Homeworth; Mary Carnes and Dorothy Sourwein, Leetonia H. C. Nolen and Mrs. Kate Chamberlain, Columbiana.

William Dryden, Carter Stroud, Jennie Rukensbrod and George C. Delitz, East Palestine; W. C. Pacey, Mrs. Louise B. Taylor and Hayes Glendons, Wellsville; Jay Carter, and Robert S. Wheatley, Sallenville; Mrs. Raymond McDewitt and Clifford Williams, Lisbon; and Bert Welker, Elkton.

U. S. SUBS CREDITED WITH 25 JAP SHIPS
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Farranging United States submarines were credited in naval records today with having sunk 25 Japanese ships, probably having sunk 10 more and done damage to six others.

This was the known bag of the subs including the six ships reported last night as having been sunk or damaged in Japanese waters.

Previously a total of 22 enemy vessels had been reported sunk, nine probably sunk and four had previously been reported damaged.

The latest claims were that three more Japanese merchant ships, a 7,000-ton tanker, a 6,000-ton ship, and a 5,000-ton freighter, were sunk; an enemy destroyer or anti-submarine vessel was probably sunk; and two 2,000-ton freighters were damaged.

All these latest actions occurred in "Japanese waters," a navy communiqué said last night.

KEEP CHICKENS IN PENS, POLICE WARN
Add chickens to the list of spring season nuisances.

Complaints have been received at police headquarters from residents in several sections of the city that neighbors' chickens were scratching far out of bounds, causing some damage.

Chickens inside the city limits should be kept in their pens, police warned.

LISBON'S COUNCIL PLANS CLEAN SWEEP
LISBON, March 24.—Lisbon will be one of the cleanest towns in the state as a result of action last night by village councilmen, who voted to purchase a motor driven street sweeper.

For several years past the matter of keeping the village streets free from dirt has been a problem. So council considered the purchase of a street sweeper as advisable in that it would be beneficial to all citizens that streets were kept clean and sanitary.

Accordingly, council is seeking bids on such equipment to be purchased at an estimated cost of $2,900.

BLACKOUT LIGHTS ON PATROL'S CAR
The Salem state highway patrol station on the Lisbon road has received a new cruiser car equipped with special blackout lights to permit trips by patrol members during dark hours.

Corp. James Bower reported that the station's three other motor cars may be similarly equipped. In addition to the automobiles, the local patrol station possesses two motorcycles.

PACIFIC WAR OF ATTRITION

Gen. MacArthur's declaration about relief of the Philippines being a primary purpose of his campaign based on Australia is a terse description of his military problem.

To hold Australia, Gen. MacArthur must have an uninterrupted supply of war material from the United States—uninterrupted and enormous. The material must be shipped from the United States; it is approximately 7,500 miles from San Francisco to Sydney, closest Australian port. From Yokohama to Sydney is slightly more than 5,000 miles, the same distance as that from Honolulu to Sydney. This must be done to hold Australia.

To make Australia the spring board for a counter-campaign to drive the Japanese will require much more. The United States fleet will have to gain control of the seas in the Netherlands East Indies. United States aviation will have to overcome the Japanese advantage that helped make the Japanese thrust toward Australia successful. Only after the Japanese had been placed on the defensive in the southwest Pacific would relief of the United States and Filipino army in the Philippines begin to materialize.

This is what observers meant before the defeats at Singapore and Java when they said the loss of these vital points would mean a long, costly and bloody war. The United Nations can regain what has been lost, but the most momentous fact of their campaign at the moment is their tremendous disadvantage. There is nothing immediately to be expected. Sudden, brilliant victories are out of the question. They have undertaken a long war of attrition, to offset Japan's early successes. All hope of a short war ending in Japan's defeat was destroyed by failure to be prepared for what now, oddly enough, plainly was bound to happen.

IT WAS A GREAT VICTORY

There will be no new legislation affecting labor at this time. Something may be done later if the occasion arises. This is the administration's way of handling the latest uproar in the house over national labor policy. There is to be no change in the 40-hour standard. The "revolt" in the house will be stopped in its tracks. Everything is to remain just the way it is.

While it is remaining that way, of course, there will be nothing to keep constituents and their congressmen from thinking and talking. The issue cannot be buried and expected to lie still. It is dynamic—at least as dynamic as the war effort with which it is involved.

For instance, one large corporation working exclusively on war contracts has invited the public to attend negotiations with union officials over the terms of a new working agreement. The public has as much at stake as the corporation in labor costs for war production.

Spokesmen for the government may explain good-naturedly to the supposedly misinformed public that the 40-hour week does not mean that employees can work only 40 hours, but the public knows some of the answers, too. It knows that paying time and a half for work over 40 hours and double time for Sundays and holidays is raising the cost of virtually everything the government wants in a hurry and that somebody is going to pay the bill. The public also knows that the somebody is going to be it, the public. That explains a lot of the grumbling about the 40-hour week—grumbling that is now officially out of order but probably is going to be continued.

A SHORT SHORT EDITORIAL

Next time one of those living room discussions about the war starts and someone starts to explain what the United States is fighting for, quote this brief passage from a little booklet published by General Motors' department of public relations. O. E. Hunt, engineer for General Motors war production, is quoted in the booklet as saying that various units of the automobile industry, while no longer competing with each other, are "jointly competing against three other guys who've got it into their heads that they are the champs."

If there's going to be any elimination tournaments for championships, the United States is going to be a finalist—and that's what the war's about.

VICHY'S PROMISES

While Vichy France has regained a certain amount of dignity by the conduct of the trials at Riom, the fact remains it is a puppet state. There would have been no trials, unless Germany had hoped to use them for its own purposes.

This is the background for popular understanding of Washington's ticklish game with the French on Martinique. It is hard to take seriously Vichy's protests about its good intentions. It is hard not to believe that the Germans are not exploiting every possibility of doing damage to United States shipping and that Martinique is not one of the possibilities.

It will be a triumph if the French can be blocked out of the war and made as useless to Germany as they have become to the United States. But if anything happens to the plan to do it—if it turns out that this government was played for a sucker—it will be the people's turn to remind the government that they never took stock in Vichy's promises. Only a diplomat can make himself believe that Germany is going to leave any power of decision to a government that exists on German sufferance.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, March 25.

ALTHOUGH this may be a day of very lively activity, initiative and fair progress, yet this success will have to be the result of personal application, determination and strenuous enterprise since there is little to be expected from superiors, employers or others higher up. In fact, there may be definite antagonism from them, but this should not be resisted by impetuous, offensive measures.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate an unusually lively and aggressive day, with some opportunity for accomplishment of high objectives but by personal cleverness and initiative rather than the encouragement or concrete support of influential personages. In fact, there may be unlooked for opposition from such quarters, but handle the situation with finesse and compromise and not impetuosity or strife.

A child born on this day should be exceptionally talented, versatile and efficient, but its impetuosity, or high nervous tension may provoke those from whom it expects cooperation.

FARMERS ARE KEY FIGURES

MOUNT GILEAD, March 24.—Farmers were pictured today as key figures in America's war effort, with a duty to raise the right kind of crops "to feed our boys in the army and our workers in the factories."

"A farmer who would raise wheat and other things we don't need is downright unpatriotic," said Harry N. Schooler, regional director of the agricultural adjustment administration.

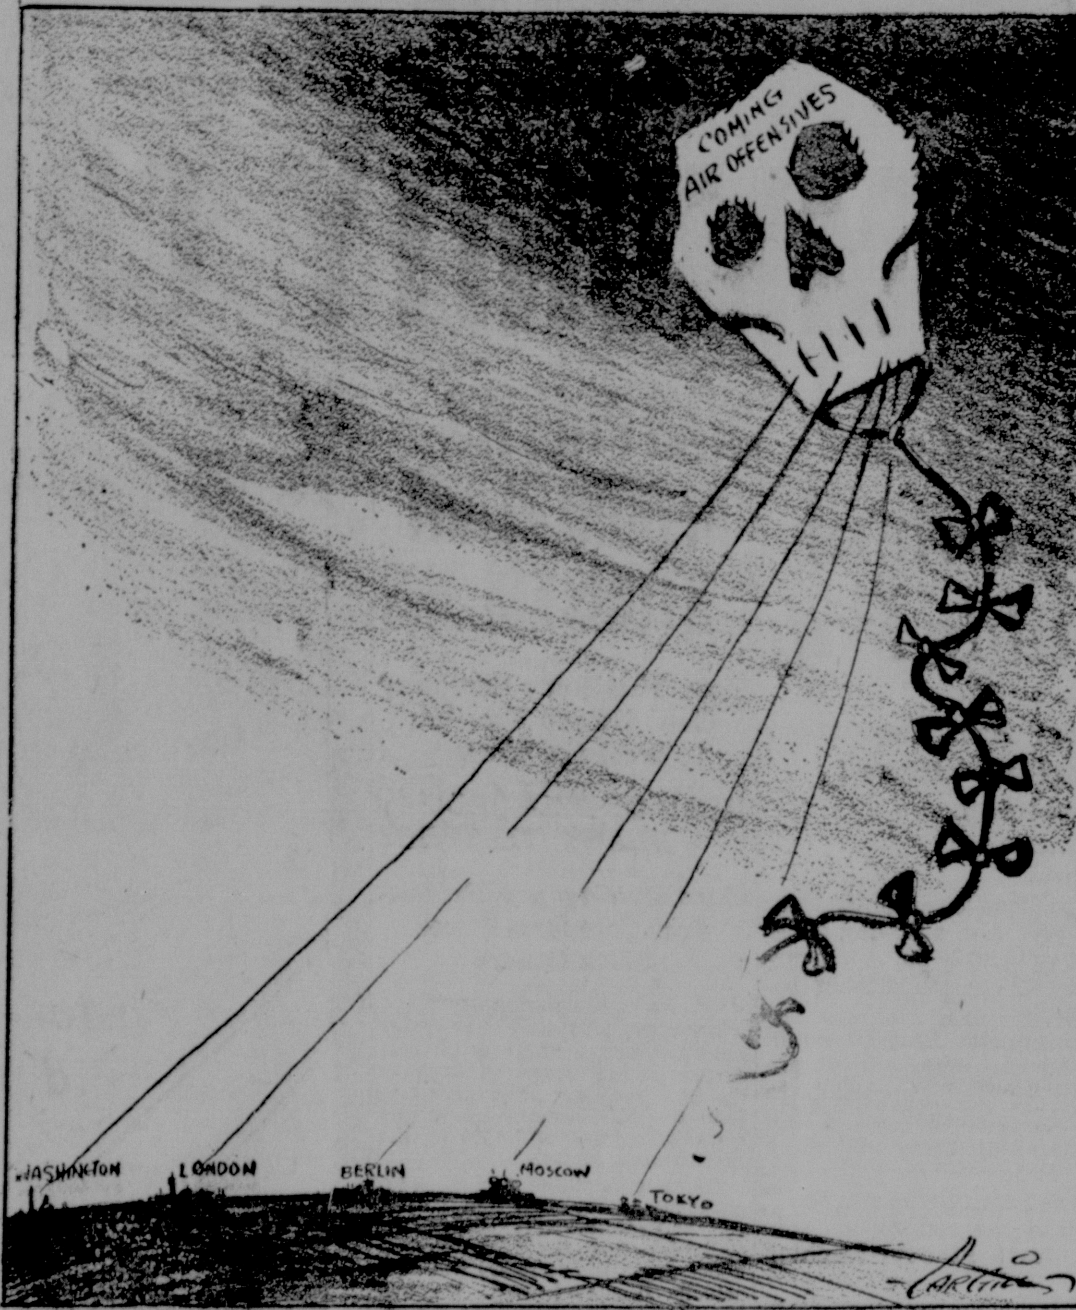

He addressed about 400 farmers from Morrow and nearby counties at a "grass roots" meeting yesterday called by Clay Renz, Morrow county AAA chairman.

"Some people say now is the time to throw the AAA out of the window and to produce as much of anything as they want," Schooler said.

"Industry can't do that. Industry has been forced to curtail production of everything that is not essential to the war effort. Farmers must do the same. You must do it with a shortage of labor and machinery. That is your job."

Agriculture is ready for its part in the war, Schooler said, because of its ever-normal granary program of three years' standing. If industry had accumulated vital materials similarly, there wouldn't have been a Pearl Harbor disaster, he added.

CLENEDENING ALLAYS SOME FEARS

Discusses Network of Veins On Skin

BY LOGAN CLENEDENING, M. D.

THE SMALL networks of dilated veins under the skin that occur on the cheeks and on the chest and abdomen are usually ascribed to an over friendliness with the bottle.

Dr. Clenedening will answer questions of general interest, only, and then only through his column.

Called "vascular spiders" by the pathologist, in popular parlance they receive the unflattering designation of "drunkard's cheek."

This is not entirely fair because nobody knows exactly what causes them. They are, it is true, found among gentlemen and ladies who like to gather about the flowing bowl, but this is more due to the type of bodily build of such people than to the consumption of the contents of the bowl itself.

The thin, long, linear type of person with the dropped stomach and not too good an appetite or digestion is not the type of person who becomes a problem around the flowing bowl. But the wide, lateral, florid type with perfect emptying rate of the stomach is. Also it seems this is the bodily habitus which develops the vascular spiders.

We can prove this because occasionally we find a man of full habitus who does not favor the flowing bowl and who still has the vascular spiders; and also quite often we find thin people who despite their habitus, are quite intemperate, but who do not develop spiders.

In some persons a ring of small dilated veins develop under the skin at about the level of the rib margin and encircle the body in the form of a belt or girdle. These are usually regarded as ominous signs by the patients, and indeed, textbooks on medicine referred to them as a sign of liver or heart disease, preferably cirrhosis of the liver.

Two physicians, however, decided to test this out and they finally had a collection of 350 patients, all of whom had acquired this belt of little veins beneath the skin. They were not especially associated with liver disease or indeed with any internal disease of heart, lungs, high blood pressure or what have you.

The doctors concluded then that they are of no significance. They are likely to come up in those of full habitus, and especially to increase with age. They are nothing more than a sign that you are getting older.

There is something especially terrifying about anything that throws a girdle around the body. An old superstition states that if snakes appear on both sides of the trunk and meet in the middle, it means death. Any doctor with a good modicum of experience could tell of several episodes where the shingles did meet in the center without a fatal result, but still the old belief lives on.

I find that the appearance of these dilated veins on the abdomen or chest is a cause of a good deal of fright and apprehension. It looks like the outward and visible sign of some inward upheaval. I am, therefore, happy to report the observation of the two doctors as given above, and to that extent give assurances that these fears are unfounded.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A and B.—Is sodium bisulphate a poison? A says that sodium bisulphate is a harmful poison; B says that it is not. Which is right, A or B?

Answer: Sodium bisulphate is an acid salt and in a concentrated water solution would have the effect of a strong acid and would probably corrode the gullet and stomach. It is not used in medicine. You may be thinking of sodium sulphate, which is Glauber's salt, a saline cathartic.

D. R.—"Please tell me whether the following are fattening or not: turkey, peanuts, whole wheat bread, hamburger, and boiled eggs. Answer: Everything you mention is concentrated and therefore on the fattening side.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clenedening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clenedening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

The WPB Conservation Order Does Not Effect Men's Suits Made Prior to March 30, 1942

We'd like to clear up any confusion that may exist about the men's clothing in our spring display.

The Pearl Harbor incident did not occur until December 7, consequently the suits now in our store have not been affected in any way.

Our suits are all wool. Our double-breasted suits carry vests. Pleated trousers still are available. Coats are generously long. Some carry patch pockets. Cuffs are permissible but only up to March 30.

We repeat . . . the WPB Conservation Order, except that section referring to cuffs on trousers, applies only to clothing put into process of manufacture March 30, 1942, and after.

And so you'll find our stocks just as complete and varied as any we have ever presented . . . with prices only moderately higher than a year ago!

HUTCH OF THE R.A.F. by PETER MUIR

CHAPTER NINETEEN

"Now," declared Dubreuil, as he blocked off the fifth trick and placed it at the end of the neat pile before him. "Remember that it is my lead if a guard sticks his head through the door. Come closer." The four men leaned their heads together until they nearly touched. Had anyone been able to see them he would have thought it a tense bridge game indeed. "Our story is this. We both wish to continue the war against Germany. We have heard rumors that General Charles de Gaulle is forming an army of Free Frenchmen in England. Is that correct?"

"It is," Hutch confirmed.

"Splendid! You hear that, Henri?"

The stocky Frenchman nodded, and stuck his head out further than before. "I knew it. I knew that there was one Frenchman left with the courage to carry on the battle. Long live de Gaulle and Free France!"

David was surprised at the vehemence of this short, square, red-faced fellow. At the same time he thought there must be millions more of France who, like Henri Martin, were waiting for the moment to come when they could avenge their country's honor. Pierre also, in his eagle-like fashion, looked as if he would gladly give his life for the cause. Courage, they undoubtedly possessed, these Frenchmen, but the odds so far (thanks to a weak government and a decadent General Staff) had been too strong against them.

"Well," Dubreuil continued, "I am glad that our efforts have not been in vain. Ah, if only we had a glass of France's good red wine to drink a health in I would give you."

"General de Gaulle and France," Henri once more free of the hobnail boots of Hitler's murderers! "as we have no wine, we may only think our toast to the glorious future, to the final victory in which we shall all participate—God willing. And now, my newly acquired friends, back to the business of 'escape.'"

The sound of tramping feet were heard coming down the hall. Pierre stopped short in his conversation and led the ace of spades. The others automatically followed suit, throwing on smaller cards. The sound, however, passed on and died out at the far end of the passage.

"Sale cochon!" Henri exclaimed.

Pierre Dubreuil cleared his voice and took up where he had been interrupted by the passing of the guard. "Henri and I had never seen each other until we came here, the unwilling guests of barbarous hosts. For at least a week we fenced about, he began as heads came together. "We must agree upon a plan. Mine is this: We must wait until after midnight, when only one guard is left in the corridor. If he deranges us with his presence at the wrong time, we must—" He went through the gruesome motions of choking a man. "The lights are put out at ten o'clock. That is our cue. After ten we will have to move in darkness and absolute silence. Henri will, at the appointed hour, let me down into the river via a blanket. I shall feel my way around until I find the outlet. Whether this will be where the water comes in or where it goes out, I cannot say in advance. When I do know, I shall come back and tell you. Then, bon Dieu, we go fast, head for the sea and hope for the best. What do you think?"

Nazi Airman Meets His Match on Red Front

This last question was directed at Hutch. After a moment's thought he answered, "The first part is perfect. Once we are out of here, however, our plans must be more concrete."

"And you suggest?"

"Fortunately I know this country very well."

"That is luck, for I am from Lille and Henri here hails from Marseilles. This is our first 'vacation' in Brittany."

Gas Required by Industry UP 126% in Three Years!

YES with all this war demand, Gas continued to serve its normal domestic and commercial users—

NATURAL GAS IS A SOLDIER NOW! In fact, Gas has been a soldier ever since the defense program began in 1940. By comparing four years—peacetime and war years—you find that industries here called for 126% more Gas in 1941 than they did in 1938... and 68% more than in 1940!

This tremendous demand could not have been met without an aggressive policy of drilling hundreds of new wells, laying miles of new pipelines, building new compressor stations to bring Natural Gas from distant fields, and storing gas in underground areas.

For Natural Gas is of major importance to industry in wartime. Its fast heating, cleanliness, flexibility and accurate controllability are essential to the complex and exact heat processing of metals and other war materials. They are in many cases the same advantages which domestic Gas users enjoy. In war production, however, where speed and precision heating are demanded, they become critical qualities.

That's why we ask your cooperation during cold waves to see to it that war plants in this district are kept going every single hour. Let's not hold back a single weapon needed by our armed forces!

Natural Gas is a vital War Material... Use it wisely!

1. Reduce to a minimum the use of your kitchen range for heating on cold days.
2. Reduce the use of Gas to supplement other fuels for heating on cold days.
3. Avoid excessive room temperatures by proper setting of thermostat.
4. Close off heat in rooms you do not use, close bedroom doors at night if windows are open, see that fireplace dampers are closed.
5. Stop heat leaks by weather-stripping windows and doors, install insulation to save fuel.
6. Learn to cook with low flame in small amounts of water, saving vitamins and Gas.

Music Club Convenes In Columbiana

Mrs. Virginia Felger was associate hostess at the meeting of the Salem Music club at the home of Mrs. Edgar Miller in Columbiana Monday afternoon.

The national anthem was sung by the group, followed by a program of "American Hymns". Various hymns were sung by members and the group. A description and the origin of each hymn was given by Mrs. E. T. Coyle, who was in charge of the singing.

The program included the following: "Nearer, My God To Thee"; Mrs. F. E. Griffin; "God of Our Fathers"; members; "Rock of Ages"; Mrs. William Snowball; "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name"; members; duet, "Love Divine"; Mrs. Felger and Mrs. Richard Fitzpatrick; "Swing Brethren an Evening Blessing"; Mrs. Charles Cornwall; "He Leadeth Me"; members; "Bless This Feme" (Prayer); Mrs. J. T. Burns. The numbers were accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Dyball.

A buffet lunch was served, with Mrs. Fitzpatrick presiding at an attractive table decorated with a silver bowl of nasturtiums and sweetpeas in the center.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Burns, N. Ellsworth ave., on April 13.

Mrs. Kendall Addresses Garden Club

Mrs. E. Homer Kendall of Alliance was guest speaker at the meeting of the Salem Garden club yesterday afternoon in the library assembly room. An interesting and instructive paper on "The Care and Propagation of Chrysanthemums" was presented by the speaker.

Mrs. Kendall discussed the origin of the flower in China, its cultivation and use in Japan, its transportation to Europe and finally to the United States in 1860 by Peter Henderson. In 1890 the Chrysanthemum Society of America was formed and by 1917 there had been developed in this country more than three thousand varieties.

The raising, ideal location, feeding and disease treatment of the flower was described by the speaker, who named several of the new varieties.

The question and answer period was in charge of Mrs. R. D. Painter. The next meeting will be held April 27 at the library room.

Washingtonville Class Entertained

WASHINGTONVILLE, March 24.—The Bethel class of the Methodist Sunday school was entertained on Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Ray Davis. Mrs. Lloyd Culler and Mrs. Lela Hinerman were guests.

The president, Mrs. Merle Stouffer, had charge of the meeting and gave the book report on "Easter, the Brightest Day in All the World." Contest prizes were won by Mrs. Lloyd Culler, Miss Eunice Stouffer, Mrs. Harold Rohrer, Mrs. Marvin Fieldhouse and Mrs. Russell Smith. The hostess served lunch. The April meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Marvin Fieldhouse.

Mrs. Sadie Stouffer was hostess to members of the Washingtonville Bridge club at her home on Thursday evening. Honors were won by Mrs. Carl Weikart and Mrs. Curtis Grindle. The consolation gift went to Mrs. Walter Berg. Lunch was served. Mrs. Helen B. Weikart will entertain the club in three weeks.

A union service will be held in the Trinity Lutheran church on Easter morning with Rev. W. C. Laubhaum in charge, assisted by Rev. W. C. Snowball, pastor of the Methodist church.

HELP KIDNEYS TO INCREASE

THE FLOW OF URINE

When the urine is scanty, it may mean the kidneys need stimulating.

There are millions of tiny tubes in your kidneys and it is not difficult to see they may become tired and may need an effective diuretic to increase their activity.

Kidneys need help sometimes just as the bowels do, so don't wait — act today.

Our TONJON Representative is an informant on the different TONJONS. See him at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

TONJON No. 3 increases the urine flow by stimulating the kidneys.

Kidnap Victim

John W. Spellman, Jr., nephew of Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, was the victim of kidnaping hith-hikers. On his way from Boston to his Brookline, Mass., home, John picked up two hith-hikers, who upon entering the car produced pistols, slugged and bound him, and threw him into rear seat of the car. He was then driven across state line to Troy, N. Y., where he was robbed of five dollars and raincoat. He was found later by Troy police.

Fitzpatrick's Score Second Overtime Win Over Celtics, 31-28

CLASS A TITLISTS PACED BY DUNLAP; RITCHIE HOOPS 12

McGaffick Absent As Celts
Drop Second Overtime
Game of Year

Once more two of Salem's top-notch basketball teams, the Celtics and Fitzpatrick's, met at the Memorial building and once more it was Fitzpatrick's, the Class A champions, who emerged victorious after a hard battle and an overtime period, 31-28. These two teams engaged in an overtime struggle last week, also.

Bob Ritchie gave evidence of having a "hot" night as he opened the scoring with a neat one-handed shot. He added another to his total while Don Freed shoved in a rebound and the Celtics led at the quarter, 6-4, as only Kenny Shears could connect from the field. Bill Schaeffer and Jim Dickey tossed in free throws.

Dunlap Scores
Ritchie paced the Celtics' attack again in the second period and he tallied two more buckets. Amos Dunlap opened up for the Fitzpatrick's and dropped in five points to keep the city champs in the game. Shears and Del Schaffer hit from the field to boost the Fitzpatrick total.

After being deadlocked at the half, 14-14, the scoring was rather light in the third period with neither team providing much action. Sam Pridon and Bob Scullion accounted for all the Celtics' markers while Bill Schaeffer, Del Schaffer and Jim Dickey divided the Fitzpatrick's total.

Ritchie Knocks Count
Trailing by 22-19 going into the final chapter, Bob Ritchie again pounded through to another one-handed shot while Guapone and Knepp made their presence felt with two-point buckets. Nedelka added a charity toss to the Celtics' total. Amos Dunlap once more paced the league leaders as he flipped in a pair of two-pointers. Dickey converted two foul shots and the Fitzpatrick's led with only a minute to play. Ritchie came down the side, cut through the middle and planted another one-handed beauty through the iron rim to keep the count just behind the game ended. In the overtime, it was all Bill Schaeffer as he tallied all three points to tuck the game away for the Fitzpatrick's.

Experience Counts
Experience beat the Celtics as they pulled several "boners" which practically handed the Fitzpatrick's points. Guapone and Knepp played nice defensive ball while Ritchie matched the slippery Dunlap bucket for bucket. Scullion looked good at rebounding, as did Bill Schaeffer and Sid Beechy. Dunlap led the victors in scoring again as he dropped 10 points through the iron rim. Ritchie hit an even dozen for the Celts.

The absence of Ray McGaffick, their spark plug, may have hurt the Celtics' chances. McGaffick is recovering from a slight cold contracted a few weeks ago.

Cavaliers Win 26-17
In a preliminary game, the Cavaliers polished off the Buckeyes in what was termed a "grudge" battle, 26-17. The Cavaliers led all the way and just toyed with their opponents after the first quarter. They led 4-1, 11-3 and 20-11 at various stages of the game. Don Freed and Lenny Robbins paced the Cavaliers' attack with seven points apiece while Dick Ellis hooped the same number to lead the losers' scoring.

BOWLING

The deadlock for first place in the American league was broken last night as Fernengels swept their series with the Electric Furnace to claim a three game lead over the Peoples Lumber, who dropped all three to Firestones on the Masonic alleys.

Into a tie with the lumberman went the American Laundry by winning three from Fitzpatrick's to continue their tie with Firestones for fourth place.

Fernengels led the way with 2739, posting games of 860, 929 and 950. Tom Reese paced his team with 180, 224, 225 and 629. Johnny Brantich hit two games over 200 for a 589 total.

Firestones were one pin behind, 2738, on games of 925, 865, 948. Merv. Thomas was high for the night with 205, 191, 238—634. Clem Knowles of Demings also had a good night, 221, 167, 201—589.

In postponed matches rolled off at Grates last night, Capels took two from Bliss and the Tool & Die of the Mullins league copped a like number from the Stores.

At the temple lanes, Sheens took two from Meissners and Salem China topped the Masons twice in postponed matches. Bill Hull of the Pottery five was red hot as he cracked out a 649 series on games of 246, 215 and 188.

Paul Scullion came through with a 221 game as the Chinas mowed down 950 pins their second game. The Masons were led by Richardson's 204 and 217 for a 592 total.

Bill Meissner paced his team in their double loss to Sheens with games of 210 and 216 while Hise blasted out a 235 score his last game. Doc Hartsough's 211 led the winners.

LEHMAN RATED AS UNDERDOG IN GAME WITH XENIA SQUAD

North and Central Catholic
Clash Rated Toss-up;
Both Powerhouses

(By Associated Press)
KENT, March 24.—Four "point-a-minute" teams, three of which boast tight defenses, were set today for Saturday's final dash toward the state Class A high school basketball championship.

Toledo Central Catholic, hoping to become the first Catholic school in history to annex the Class A crown, carries the best offensive scoring mark and the poorest defensive average into the fray, while Xenia Central boasts the No. 1 defense.

The Toledo school, in winning 28 of 30 starts, counted 1,417 points for a 47.2 average, while allowing the foe a 36.1 average on a 1,085 total.

Akron North, Toledo Central's foe in Saturday afternoon's opening semi-finals tilt, has won 23 and lost one with an offensive mark of 41.2 and a defensive average of 29.3, indicating a toss-up contest between the two powerhouses.

Xenia Central, winners of 23 of 24 games, is a distinct favorite to win the other semi-finals clash from Canton Lehman, which has a record of 16 wins and seven defeats. The Lehman, however, have swept through six straight tournament games and may follow the precedent established by Somerset in winning the Class B classic Saturday at Springfield.

Somerset had been beaten six times in early season play and finished fourth in the Perry County league, but the Raiders couldn't be stopped when the chips went down.

Lehman, despite its none-too-good won-lost record, has a point average of 37.8 while holding the foe to 28.5. Xenia Central is about four points better each way, with a 41.8 offensive mark and an even 24 on defense.

Winners of the semi-finals games meet Saturday at 8:15 p. m. for the title won a year ago by Martins Ferry.

McKinley, Reilly Open Title Series

Reilly and McKinley winners of round championships in the Mickey McGuire league, will meet in the opening game of the playoff series tonight at the Memorial building to determine a new champion.

Columbia was hopelessly out of the race this season after winning it four years in a row. A new champion is certain to be decided tonight for that reason. Neither team has won the title for several years and a win for either would be considered a great victory.

SPORT CHATTER
BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, March 24.—If your calendar isn't enough proof that spring is here, what's become of all those ball players who were held out a couple of weeks ago?.... Training camp scribes are doing their raving about rookies now, and when they're forgotten the season will be on.... The P. G. A., which will run the only national golf championship this year, is having trouble finding a sponsor who can put up enough dough—and the event is scheduled for May.... Commodore Sheldon Clark, head of the Illinois boxing commission, has okayed Lou Nova as an opponent for Bob Pastor.

Today's Guest Star
Al Abrams, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette: "Herman Pillette, former major league hurler now a member of the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast league, is 46 years old and has had 26 years of pro basketball. Under present conditions, his future appears very bright."

One-Minute Sports Page
M. G. Andy Anderson set some sort of a record in Minnesota basketball circles when he coached Buhl high of St. Paul to a state title a year ago, shifted over to Cretin high and won the Catholic High school crown this spring.... Although the possibility of a night baseball ban worried Southern promoters most of the winter, Auburn went ahead and scheduled four night football games for 1942.... Gabe Genovese, veteran Syracuse, N. Y., and San Francisco fight man, will try to promote boxing in San Jose, Calif.... Paul Dean isn't loafing in the shade of a haystack this spring. He works out three hours a day with the Dallas Rebels, gets in a round of golf, goes home to milk three cows and then keeps his filing station running for a few hours.

Wesl Virginia Tops Toledoans by 51-39
NEW YORK, March 24.—Unless there's another minor upset, something like both teams getting lost on the subways and winding up in New Jersey, Western Kentucky and West Virginia will meet Wednesday night for the New York Invitational basketball title.
The clubs were invited here to fill out the eight-club bracket and the Kentuckians were immediately seeded seventh with the Mountaineers drawing the bottom slot.
But now, after two evenings of surprises, they meet in the next outing for the crown. West Virginia tumbled off Long Island university's brow last Tuesday in the first round.
Last night Western Kentucky was far too good for Creighton, co-champion of the Missouri Valley circuit, and downed the Nebaskans, 49 to 36. Earlier the 17,935 paying spectators had watched West Virginia's five humble Toledo, 51 to 39.
Creighton and Toledo tangle for third place honors in a game before the championship event Wednesday and the stars of the six visiting teams will remain for an army emergency relief contest against an all-star soldier aggregation Saturday night.

Tribe Signs Harder For 1942 Campaign
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 24.—For old times' sake and for the help he can give their hurling staff this year, the Cleveland Indians were glad to have Mel Harder back on the official roster today.
The 32-year-old right-hander's comeback was made official with the signing of a conditional contract under which he will be paid according to the number of games he wins.
Harder's arm failed him last season, his 14th with Cleveland—the only major league club he ever pitched for—and in mid-season he underwent an operation for removal of bone chips from his elbow. At the end of last season he was given his unconditional release.
But neither the club nor Harder wanted his career to end. He accompanied the Tribe to its training camp this spring as a free agent.
His pitching arm has lost its soreness, and although Harder himself has avoided optimistic predictions, he has confided to teammates that the arm really feels strong.
Thus far Harder has pitched in two exhibition games. A week ago Sunday he started against the Kansas City Blues, and in three innings kept them from scoring, allowed only one hit and striking out four. Last Saturday he pitched five innings against the Detroit Tigers. He scattered five hits and the Tigers' only run came on two errors.
Manager Lou Boudreau said he was "very happy" about Harder's official return, and said "if he can come through with one of his good years it is going to help us a lot in reaching our goal, a place in the first division."

GREAT LAKES GRID TEAM BOASTS STARS
(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, March 24.—Ohio football fans will have an opportunity to see some of the nation's ablest grid stars in action next Oct. 10 when the Great Lakes (ILL) naval training station meets the University of Pittsburgh in Municipal stadium.
A contract for the game was signed last night. Net proceeds will go to the naval relief fund and the contest will be sponsored by the American Legion club of Cleveland, which with the Cleveland News has sponsored the annual game between a team of Midwest all-stars and the Cleveland Rams of the National Professional Football league. The latter game will be dropped.
Although Oct. 10 is too far off to allow any forecasts on the make-up of the Sailors' team, many gridiron greats now are in training at Great Lakes.
Among them are Bruce Smith, who led Minnesota to a Big Ten championship; George (Rip) McAffee of Duke university and the Chicago Bears; Rudy Mucha, blocking back, and Howard Hickey, end, who used to play for the Cleveland Rams, and Steve Belichick of the Detroit Lions.
Pitt's lineup will include a guard from Ohio, Ralph Fife of Canton.
This year's contest will echo a game of Nov. 30, 1918, when Pitt came here to play the Cleveland naval reserves, a squad containing many college stars. The Navy team won, 10 to 9.
Indians Ready For Reds
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 24.—Although the Cleveland Indians had an open date Monday, they held a morning batting drill to pep up their attack for a meeting today with the Cincinnati Reds.
